

RUN IT LIKE MINE: DFY AUTOMATION SETUP · THE ENGINE

One week of The Engine, running on its own.

This is the real run log a client gets: three automations set up on her own Claude account, every run written down, every result checked. Including the day something froze, and the day there was nothing to publish.

BUILT FOR

Velvet Turnip Printables

Hattie Marlowe sells printable meal planners and chore charts on her own site and on Etsy, with a small Skool community called the Velvet Turnip Club. She picked 3 automations: the 8 AM Publisher, the Pin Factory and the Friday Readout.

★ Sample built for a fictional client.

WHAT WAS INSTALLED

Three automations. Her account, her voice.

Each one runs as a scheduled task on Hattie's own Claude account, so she owns it. Each one reads her voice file first and checks its own work before it reports.

EVERY DAY, 8:00 AM

8 AM Publisher

Publishes the day's queued blog post on Hattie's site, opens the live page to check it loaded, then posts the announcement in her Skool community with the link on the words.

PROOF IT RAN

Live post URL + community post, both read back

EVERY DAY, 1:00 PM

Pin Factory

Designs 3 pins from that week's printables, writes the title, description and alt text, and schedules them into her Pinterest for the next day.

PROOF IT RAN

3 pins scheduled, each opened in Pinterest to confirm

FRIDAYS, 4:00 PM

Friday Readout

Pulls the week's numbers (site visits, Etsy orders, email sign-ups, pin clicks) into a one-page readout and sends it to her inbox with the one thing to fix next week.

PROOF IT RAN

Readout email, numbers checked against each source

HANDOVER DAY

A test run of all three before handover. Every output opened live before sign-off.

INSTRUCTION SHEET

One plain page per automation: what it does, when, where the output lands, how to pause it.

THE RUN LOG RULE

Nothing is logged as done until the result is opened and seen. A task that returns without error is not proof.

RUN LOG · WEEK OF 12 OCTOBER

Monday to Wednesday

DAY	TIME	AUTOMATION	STATUS	WHAT IT DID	HOW IT CHECKED
Mon 12	8:00 AM	8 AM Publisher	RAN	Published "5 Chore Charts That Survive Real Kids". Posted the announcement in the Velvet Turnip Club.	Opened the live page (loaded, images present). Reloaded the community post: live, link on the words.
Mon 12	1:00 PM	Pin Factory	RAN	Designed 3 pins for the Weekly Meal Planner. Scheduled for Tue 8:00, 12:00, 19:00.	Opened each scheduled pin: image, title, description and link all correct.
Tue 13	8:00 AM	8 AM Publisher	RAN	Published "The Fridge Door Planner Method". Community post live.	Live page loaded. Community post read back.
Tue 13	1:00 PM	Pin Factory	RECOVERED	Pinterest composer froze on pin 2. Closed the tab, opened a fresh one, rebuilt pin 2. Scheduled all 3.	All 3 opened in the scheduled list. Hiccup noted for Hattie, nothing for her to do.
Wed 14	8:00 AM	8 AM Publisher	RAN	Published "Lunchbox Notes Kids Actually Read". Community post live.	Live page loaded. Community post read back.
Wed 14	1:00 PM	Pin Factory	RAN	3 pins for Lunchbox Notes printable. Scheduled for Thu.	Each pin opened and checked.

WHAT LANDED IN HER INBOX, FRIDAY 4:00 PM

The Friday Readout, exactly as sent.

One page. The four numbers she tracks, what moved them, and one thing to fix. No dashboard to log into.

WHERE EVERY NUMBER CAME FROM

- Site visits: her site analytics
- Etsy orders: Etsy shop stats
- Sign-ups: her email platform
- Pin clicks: Pinterest analytics

Each number read from its source and matched before the email went out.

From: Friday Readout · To: Hattie · Subject: Your week: orders up, one pin carried it

What moved it: Tuesday's Weekly Meal Planner pin drove about a third of this week's pin clicks. The Lunchbox Notes post got the most time on page.

ONE THING FOR NEXT WEEK

Your Sunday Reset bundle page has no pin pointing to it yet. The Pin Factory has 3 queued for Monday. Nothing for you to do.

THE INSTRUCTION SHEET

What Hattie keeps so she never needs me.

8 AM Publisher

Runs	Every day, 8:00 AM
Reads first	Her voice file and the week's queue
Output	Live post URL + community post, both read back
To pause	Scheduled tasks, switch it off. Nothing is lost.
If it fails	It says so in the run report, in plain English, with what it tried.

Pin Factory

Runs	Every day, 1:00 PM
Reads first	Her voice file and the week's queue
Output	3 pins scheduled, each opened in Pinterest to confirm
To pause	Scheduled tasks, switch it off. Nothing is lost.
If it fails	It says so in the run report, in plain English, with what it tried.

Friday Readout

Runs	Fridays, 4:00 PM
Reads first	Her voice file and the week's queue
Output	Readout email, numbers checked against each source
To pause	Scheduled tasks, switch it off. Nothing is lost.
If it fails	It says so in the run report, in plain English, with what it tried.

CARE PLAN OPTION

The Care Plan is a separate monthly option. Without it, the instruction sheet is everything she needs to run, pause or restart each automation.

WHAT YOU JUST LOOKED AT

This was one slice. Here is the whole order.

A week of The Engine: three automations installed on the client's own account, fifteen logged runs, one recovered hiccup, one honest skip, and the Friday Readout she actually received.

THE FULL RUN IT LIKE MINE: DFY AUTOMATION SETUP INCLUDES

- Your pick from the automations I run for TDIE: 8 AM publisher, weekly Skool loader, pin factory, Threads writer and loader, Facebook group mirror, member check-in list, Etsy listing builder, Friday readout
- Set up on your own Claude account, in your voice
- A test run of every automation before handover
- A plain-English instruction sheet for each one
- One automation, The Engine (any 3) or The Full Machine (up to 6), plus the optional Care Plan

PRICE

$297 one automation · $697 The Engine (any 3) · $1,297 The Full Machine (up to 6) · Care Plan $197/month
